

Harald Becker
Academy Director

Harald Becker is the Academy Director and Managing Director of DMAN.

Competencies

International project management, consulting, account management, budget responsibility, resource management, information technology, administrative law.

Professional background

Harald Becker started his professional career in the administration of Niedersachsen. In 1998, he left his administrative career to work in private industry. At an international ERP vendor, he was responsible, as a project manager first, then as a consulting manager, for complex software projects at public administrations and renowned industrial enterprises. Before he joined DMAN in November 2013, he was Senior Director Consulting, managing the services business of Infor Global Solutions in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and the Czech Republic. In addition, he was responsible for customizations in the company's off-shore center in Hyderabad, India.

At DMAN, Harald Becker served as Director International Relations, responsible for the academy's operational business in Eastern Europe, Asia and the Gulf States, before he was appointed as Managing Director and Academy Director in January 2017.

Harald Becker holds a degree in public administration, acquired at the Lower Saxony University of Applied Sciences for Administration and Administration of Justice. There, he later taught civil law and general administrative law as a part-time lecturer.

Languages

German, English, French.